General course content – Globalization and the EU

The sessions in Vienna introduce students to the historical trajectory of the European integration process as well as the policy-making system in the EU. Further, the course analyses Europe's role as an international political and economic actor and its relations with different countries and regions of the world. Vincent Mo has specialized on the European Union and its foreign political stance and international relations. Together with the summer academy participants he will discuss the EU's role in international affairs and analyse the European cooperation in the context of globalization.

Time	9.30 a.m. – 11.00 a.m.	11.30 a.m. – 1 p.m.
Mon, 17	Introduction to the program Mind-Mapping the EU in the 21st century In the morning you will be picked up by your tutor who will bring you to the classroom. Meeting point: 08:30 a.m. in the lobby of the accommodation. 1. Course structure/plan 2. Assignments 3. Introduction (students' expectations, topics that students are interested in) Guided City Walk with Tutor in Vienna – 5 p.m. Students will be picked up in the Hotel Lobby at 5 p.m.
Tue, 18	International relations in the 21st century: of actors, power and sovereignty Since the end of the Cold War, debates in international relations rank around the distribution of power among old and new actors. How is power is defined, which role do states play and what about sovereignty? This session and the following one will outline the overarching international environment in which the EU as an international actor can be analysed. 1. Political concepts: power, states 2. Politics & democracy	International relations in the 21st century: what kind of polarity? International relations in the 21st century: what kind of polarity? Besides the debate about the distribution of power, a structural order for international relations in the 21st century is still disputed. Is the world to be considered as a unipolar, bipolar, multipolar or nonpolar one? Is international law an essential point of reference for the regulation of the behavior of states? How important is international law and does it reflect changes in today's globalised world? 1. IR theories 2. Agent vs structure 3. Material vs ideational
Wed, 19	European history matters European history matters Developments in the first and second half of the 20th century had a strong influence on the European integration process. This session will focus on that period and ask why explanations for the EU of today need to understand the past. 1. What is Europe 2. The historical and cultural pillar of the current EU 3. European integration 4. EU treaties 5. The single market 6. Brexit	Actors and policy-making in the EU Actors and policy-making in the EU Based on the evolution of the European integration, the EU has developed a unique systemic form. The competences of actors and the procedures for interaction are clearly determined and regulated. For the understanding of the functioning of the EU it is therefore necessary to consider the complexity of a multi-level system of governance. 1. The EU institutions 2. Policymaking process in the EU
Thu, 20	The strategic concept of the EU Closely linked to foreign, security and defence policy is the strategic concept of the EU. The European Security Strategy of 2003 and its follow-up will be focused upon in this session. Furthermore, the European strategy needs to be compared to the strategic concepts of other international actors and security political challenges of today (US, Russia, China, NATO).	Multilateralism and the United Nations Multilateralism is a core concept for European foreign policy as well as in the framework of the United Nations. Against the background of the earlier sessions the term effective multilateralism needs explanation. Apart from the EU and the UN, further multilateral organizations will be taken into consideration. 1. Multilateralism within and outside the EU 2. Comparison between the EU and ASEAN
Fri, 21	The Common Foreign and Security Policy (CFSP) Looking at the EU's external relations, a mismatch between the economic dimension and the foreign and security political dimension can be observed. This session will look at the evolution from European Political Cooperation (EPC) to the CFSP.	The Common Security and Defence Policy (CSDP) An essential part of the EU's external profile is determined by the Union's military capabilities. Looking at institutions, instruments, missions and operations, the perspectives of the CSDP and the EU as a military power will be discussed in this part. Particular attention will be paid to the civil-military dimension.

Time	9.30 a.m. – 11.00 a.m.	11.30 a.m. – 1 p.m.	afternoon
Mon, 24	Looking West: Transatlantic relations and EU-NATO relations After the end of the Cold War and especially due to establishment of the CFSP and CSDP, the EU's relations with the US as well as NATO experienced important changes. In this session the US and NATO dimension will be discussed as well as the prospects and challenges for transatlantic relationships in the future. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. EU-NATO 2. EU-US Visit to the United Nations in Vienna, 3.45 pm to 5 pm
Tue, 25	Looking East: Eastern Europe and Russia The immediate Eastern neighbourhood of the EU is an area of utmost importance and interest for the EU, especially in terms of stability of the European continent. This part will be devoted to developments in Eastern Europe with an emphasis on Russia. Against that background and in light of current conflicts, the EU's policy towards Eastern Europe will be examined. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The Ukraine crisis 2. Hungary/Poland 3. EU neighbourhood policy
Wed, 26	Looking far East: Sino-European relations With its 'One Belt, One Road' Initiative, the People's Republic of China formulates the ambition to extend its influence well beyond Asia. Recent initiatives clearly show China's eagerness to intensify ties with certain European states, such as the 16+1 framework between China and 16 Eastern European states. Some EU member states and the EU as such show increasing skepticism towards China's strategy and hence adopted the EU's 'Global Gateway' initiative in return. In this session, we will trace Sino-European relations and analyse current state of affairs between these politics. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. EU-China relationship 2. EU's development aid

General course content – Europeanization of Member States

The sessions Prague are devoted to Europeanization, i.e. the question in how far the EU changes the political system, politics and policies of its Member States. In this regard and given Prague as venue, the course will especially take into account the perspective of an Eastern European Member State that joined the EU rather recently. Dan Marek of the Palacký University Prague will motivate students to reflect on Member States' different preferences on how to proceed with European integration and why Eastern European Member States currently hold divergent ideas on the EU than Western neighbours with regard to migration-related issues or domestic political reform.

Mo, 31	Transformation processes in Eastern Europe since 1989: a historic overview The end of communist rule in Central and Eastern Europe (CEE) was fast, unexpected and unplanned process. This session will look at the unique political and economic transition of CEE countries to democracy and market economy.	Central and Eastern European states and their interests in European integration: the political, economic and societal dimension For CEECs, EU membership marked the end of an almost 15-year effort to “return to Europe” after more than four decades of communist rule and Soviet domination. This session will look at the political, economic and societal dimension of EU’s eastward enlargement.
Tue, 1	The Czech Republic as an EU member state As a candidate state, the Czech Republic was forced to accept EU rules and policies that it had no role in making. As a member state, however, it has a formal role in EU institutions and an opportunity to influence the EU decision-making process. In this session we will discuss how the Czech Republic copes with her role as an EU member state.

LMU Munich has long been recognized as a center of excellence for the study and teaching of German as a foreign language. Language teaching at the Summer German Language Course as part of the MISU is proficiency-based and aims to develop four basic skills: speaking, reading, writing, and listening. Each course is designed to teach the language within its academic, cultural and social context, so that students deepen their knowledge about Germany, whilst simultaneously developing their language skills.

For the schedule, please see the website of the Summer German Language Course. On the day of arrival in Vienna you will receive more information in advance.
