Vincent MO is interested in European politics and EU governance, cultural diplomacy, and IR theories. He is working on multiple research projects in Austria and Hong Kong. He also had outstanding teaching experiences in both regions.

General course content – the EU in the 21st century

The sessions in Vienna introduce students to the historical trajectory of the European integration process as well as governance and the policy-making system in the EU. Further, the course analyses Europe's role as an international political and economic actor, and its relations with various countries and regions of the world. Vincent MO has specialised on the European Union and its foreign political stance and international relations. Together with the summer academy participants, he will discuss the EU's role in international affairs and analyse the European cooperation and its policies for the future.

Thu, 18	The strategic concept of the EU Closely linked to foreign, security and defence policy is the strategic concept of the EU. The European Security Strategy will be focused in this session. Furthermore, the European strategy needs to be compared to the strategic concepts of other international actors and security political challenges nowadays (US, Russia, China, and NATO). The EU's norms and values will be discussed in a global context as well.	Multilateralism and the United Nations Multilateralism is a core concept for European foreign policy as well as in the framework of the United Nations. Against the background of the earlier sessions the term effective multilateralism needs explanation. Wed, 24	Looking far East: Sino-European relations With its 'One Belt, One Road' Initiative, the People's Republic of China formulates the ambition to extend its influence well beyond Asia. Recent initiatives clearly show China's eagerness to intensify ties with certain European states, such as the 16+1 framework between China and 16 Eastern European states. Some EU member states and the EU as such show increasing skepticism towards China's strategy and hence adopted the EU's 'Global Gateway' initiative in return. In this session, we will trace Sino-European relations and analyse current state of affairs between these politics. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. EU-China relationship 2. General course content – Europeanization of Member States

The sessions Prague are devoted to Europeanization, i.e. the question in how far the EU changes the political system, politics and policies of its Member States. In this regard and given Prague as venue, the course will especially take into account the perspective of an Eastern European Member State that joined the EU rather recently. Dan Marek of the Palacký University Prague will motivate students to reflect on Member States' different preferences on how to proceed with European integration and why Eastern European Member States currently hold divergent ideas on the EU than Western neighbors with regard to migration-related issues or domestic political reform.

Dr. Radu-Mihai Triculescu

LMU Munich, MISU Head of EU Studies Programs

Radu-Mihai Triculescu is a Postdoctoral Fellow at the Chair of Political Systems and European Integration at LMU Munich, working on the ERC Advanced Grant SYNCPOL - Synchronized Politics: Multiple Times and Political Power. He studied International Affairs and Political Science at Florida State University, and earned an Erasmus Mundus Joint Master in International Migration and Social Cohesion from the University of Amsterdam, Deusto University, and University of Osnabruck.

In 2021, Radu earned his PhD at the University of Twente in the Netherlands, where he researched the multi-level implementation of asylum policies in the European Union. Through his work, he analyzed how bureaucracies and administrative agencies in EU Member States interpret and implement the rules and norms of the Common European Asylum System.

Radu-Mihai Triculescu's research attempts to understand how national differences impact policy harmonization across different jurisdictions. Aside from academia, he has also spent time working as an Associate Policy Analyst at the Migration Policy Institute – Europe, where he worked on projects relating to return and reintegration, asylum, and the effects of the COVID-19 pandemic on migrant inclusion.

General course content

The EU in Times of Crisis

We will have another two weeks of engaging with EU matters. The sessions in Munich will center on current developments in the European Union and on how theory-guided empirical research by EU scholars is discussing current issues such as the war in Ukraine, increasing euroscepticism, the EU as a global power, the migration crisis and the potential future of the European Union.

Time	9.00 a.m. – 10.30 a.m.	11.00 a.m. – 12.30 p.m.	afternoon
Wed, 31	Welcome Lecture Lecture will take place at the LMU campus	Political Science Methods: bringing theory and empirics into dialogue In this special session, we will discuss the requirements for the essays and the presentations. We will look at the standards for proper academic writing, the structuring of papers, development of research questions, presentation of findings, as well as issues such as literature research.	City Tour Munich Meeting point: 3 p.m. Geschwister-Scholl-Platz 1
Thu, 1	Theories of European integration and disintegration We will discuss different political science theories and how they have been used to explain European integration and a potential future (dis)integration of the EU. We will use Brexit as a case study for evaluating in how far established integration theories perform in explaining the reasons for the EU referendum in the United Kingdom. Group discussions will then focus on growing Euroscepticism and movements calling for other “-exits” from the EU.
Fri, 2	The Constitutionalization of the EU: What power do the judges have in Europe? We will draw on intergovernmentalist and supranationalist theories to analyze how far the European Court of Justice (ECJ) can and has influenced European integration. We will also use the arguments of both theoretical camps to try and understand how academic debates play out.
Sun, 4	Day Trip to Neuschwanstein Castle Meeting point: 8.00 a.m. Geschwister-Scholl-Platz 1

Time	9.00 a.m. – 10.30 a.m.	11.00 a.m. – 12.30 p.m.
Mon, 5	Addressing the democratic deficit in the EU? There is a vivid debate in the EU studies community on whether the EU suffers a democratic deficit. We review this debate considering the concepts of ‘input’ and ‘output’ legitimacy and reflect on the democratic quality of the EU’s rule-making system. We will also follow a practical development of the power of democratic institutions such as the European Parliament, and assess if there is, in fact, such a deficit, and what potential solutions might be.
Tue, 6	EU in crisis I + II: Addressing the Eurozone and migration crisis of the 2010s How has the EU reacted to the economic and migration? How have these crises, and the responses to them, changed the face of EU politics and governance? This session will explore how these have fundamentally changed the EU. It will focus on the emergence of new actors and institutions, such as the “Troika”, the European Stability Mechanisms, or the New Pact on Migration and Asylum.
Wed, 7	Ungraded presentation of Students’ Essays Part 1 Students will be asked to present a first outline of their essays including the research question and the main hypotheses, central elements of the argumentation and reflections on the sources needed to answer the research question. Each presentation will be critically discussed by a fellow student before the group will try to propose solutions for the most challenging aspects of each proposal.	The EU as a Global Actor and Power? In this session, we will engage with the debate on how to analyze the EU’s presence on the international stage, and the ability of the EU to adapt to changing geopolitical contexts. What kind of an actor is the EU? What is the EU’s power base vis-à-vis third states? How effective and legitimate are the EU’s actions in international negotiations?
Thu, 8	Ungraded presentation of Students’ Essays Part 2 Students will be asked to present a first outline of their essays including the research question and the main hypotheses, central elements of the argumentation and reflections on the sources needed to answer the research question. Each presentation will be critically discussed by a fellow student before the group will try to propose solutions for the most challenging aspects of each proposal.	The EU’s role in the Ukraine crisis The Ukraine crisis reached its climax when Russia invaded the country in February 2022. In this session, we will analyze the reasons for the Ukraine crisis, and critically discuss the EU’s role in (mis)managing its relationship with Ukraine in the lead-up to the war.
Fri, 9	The Future of the European Union What has been the EU’s raison d’être? Can we predict its future and what will it be? In this final session, we will look at different scenarios for the EU’s future, from further integration to a potential disintegration, from the rise of Eurosceptic parties to the emerging policy issues of the coming years.	Closing Session Final discussion of the Munich part and evaluation of the program Farewell beer garden “meeting”
